HIFU FOCUS_{DUAL}

High Intensity Focused Ultrasound (HIFU) is a revolutionary, non-surgical face-lifting treatment. This specialist treatment harnesses ultrasound waves to radiate energy into the SMAS layer of the skin to tighten, lift and plump the skin. The HIFU targets mid-face skin tightening, eyelid lifting and jawline sculpting to reduce the 'jowl' effect of the jawline. Treatments are tailored to give your skin back its snap with virtually no downtime.

RF MICRONEEDLING

Radio Frequency (RF) Microneedling can be used to treat a number of skin concerns such as open pores, scars, fine lines, and wrinkles as well as skin laxity. This treatment can also be used to help post-partum scarring and stretch marks. RF Microneedling uses ultra-fine needles to penetrate the skin at different depths while releasing RF energy to heat the skin in a controlled manner. This will stimulate a wound healing response leading to the production of more collagen and elastin, leaving the skin tighter, firmer, lifted, and youthful.

Enhance your microneedling results with our Mesosome Add-On Treatment - a powerful boost designed to nourish, repair, and rejuvenate your skin at a deeper level. Applied during your treatment, Mesosomes penetrate through the microchannels created in the skin, delivering targeted hydration and cellular support where it's needed most. This helps to improve skin texture, reduce fine lines, enhance radiance, and promote a smoother, more youthful complexion.

Choose from three tailored options to suit your skin goals:

- Elite - deeply hydrates and improves overall skin texture
- Bright - helps reduce redness and promote a more radiant, even complexion
- Tox - targets fine lines and supports firmer, smoother-looking skin

Ideal for clients seeking amplified results, this add-on maximises the benefits of microneedling while supporting faster recovery and long-lasting skin health.

IPL LASER SKIN REJUVENATION

IPL is a visible light of various wavelengths which allows skin rejuvenation and the removal of skin lesions with very little trauma to the skin. The treatment is quick, gentle, and non-invasive. A handheld treatment head is placed against the skin and pulses of light are delivered through a filter which is selected according to the client's skin type. The light penetrates the tissue and absorbs into the skin, allowing the internal structures of the dermis to rejuvenate and restore volume to the structures of the skin.

Skin rejuvenation treatments visibly restore the skin giving a fresh, firm muscle definition and increased collagen and elastin, reducing open pores, and lifting the facial contours to reverse the ageing process naturally. Precisely controlled short pulses of light are released that target discolouration (sun induced pigmentation and capillary damage) and also to create a more youthful, even complexion to your skin.

RED VEINS AND ROSACEA

Sore and unsightly redness often associated with rosacea and red veins can be removed using IPL laser techniques. This treatment will also strengthen the skin to help prevent red veins occurring in the future. Facial thread veins or broken red veins (telangiectasia) are small unsightly superficial red, purple, or blue veins that occur around the nose and across the cheeks and chin. Facial veins may be hereditary or as a result of a variety of factors including damage from sun exposure, wind, and the extremes of temperature.

This treatment is clinically proven to help the skin condition called rosacea. The condition can often be upsetting, and the irritated, reddened, and sore skin can be hard to relieve. IPL laser is a doctor's recommended treatment and it helps to strengthen the skin against the effects of rosacea and will slowly reduce the redness, soreness, and patchiness of your complexion to give you back an even skin tone over a period of treatments.

PIGMENTATION REMOVAL

Sun induced pigment, commonly known as sunspots, liver spots, freckles and other unwanted pigmentation are often associated with skin ageing as well as over exposure to the sun. Generally, these pigmented areas pose no health risk, however they can be unsightly and create a patchy, less youthful appearance. Freckling and age spots are successfully lightened or removed with Intense Pulse Light (IPL) and for deeper or problematic pigmentation these can be successfully removed using our Nd Yag system.

ACNE AND KELOID SCARRING

Acne is caused by blocked hair follicles, sometimes caused by sebaceous glands which are tiny glands near the surface of the skin and are attached to your hair follicles. The glands produce oil (called sebum) to stop the skin from drying out. With acne, the glands produce too much and the excess oil binds with dead skin cells and block the follicle. Acne is greatly improved using IPL lasers as not only does the skin strengthen to assist natural healing, but the heat generated in the treated area sterilises the tissue to prevent further outbreaks and heals the residual red marks left from the acne and pustule and visibly improve the post acne texture to the skin due to the dermal regeneration.

TATTOO REMOVAL

We use the most advanced active Q-switched medical grade laser (not a passive laser as used by many tattoo studios). This means that the pulses of light are stronger and break down the ink in your tattoo more effectively. Your body's immune system then removes the particles, gradually fading the tattoo after each session.

FUNGAL NAIL TREATMENT

Pulses of light from the Nd YAG Laser passes through the toenail to the fungus underneath. The fungus is irradiated without any damage to the surrounding nail or skin. All toes are treated on both feet to ensure effective treatment. Prior to treatment we suggest you visit a Chiropodist/Podiatrist to confirm the fungal nail diagnosis and have the nail pared down if necessary. Please bring a spare pair of clean socks to wear after treatment.

Each client will require a minimum of 1-3 treatments at 2-4 week intervals. All nails on the foot with fungus should be treated and Dactarin used every day to keep any fungal activity dormant. Good foot hygiene should be followed.

SCLEROTHERAPY

Sclerotherapy is a technique used to treat small to medium broken veins on the face and body. A solution known as sclerosant is applied directly into the unwanted thread veins. The sclerosant breaks down the capillary and the body's natural healing process will gently disperse the remains, leaving the area free of the unwanted capillary.

CELLULITE, FAT REDUCTION AND SKIN TIGHTENING BODY TREATMENT

Slim down using the power of therapeutic ultrasound energy to help you achieve the body shape you’ve always desired. The Promax Lipo is a totally non-invasive treatment to rid unwanted body fat and reduce body circumference. Promax Lipo uses ultrasound waves to selectively target fat cells without affecting neighbouring tissue. The fat cells become more permeable after treatment which allows transport of triglycerides (fat) out of the cell. The triglycerides are then removed via the body’s own immune cells over the following two to three months. Finally, it will stimulate some collagen and tighten the skin, which will also help improve the appearance. Clients are advised to have two treatments per week for maximum effect and four treatments per course are recommended.
